Shadows can help us understand time and space but they can also help with entertaining us.

You must investigate shadows using puppetry.

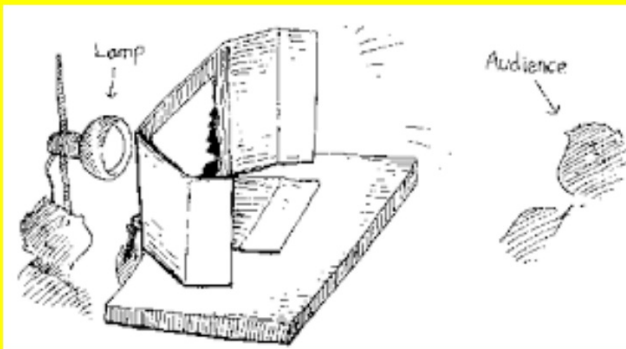

Design and make shadow puppets to retell the story of Perseus and Medusa.

Think about the size and shape of each puppet you make as this will effect the shadow.

Things to consider:

- position of the light source
- size of each puppet
- shape of each puppet
- how to make puppets change in size using the lighting and the position of your puppet.

What do you notice when you try these things?
