

Wider Curriculum Home Learning – Families

Your wider curriculum learning for this week is all to do with families.

Over the last few weeks, many families will have been affected by coronavirus and lots of people's lives have changed. We understand that for you as children this has probably been quite tricky to get used to but the support of your family, carers and loved ones around you have no doubt made it much easier to manage these big changes. It has been amazing to see families across the country come together to support, praise and look out for each other during difficult times.

This week's learning requires you to work together with people at home, explore your family history and get creative! 😊

Family Portrait

We would like you to design and create a family portrait.

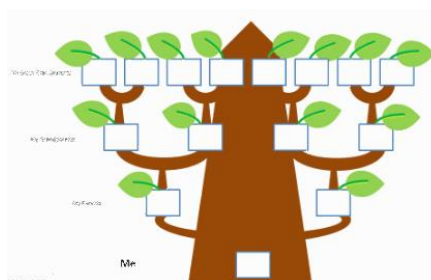

- This can be as traditional or as modern as you like! We would like you to include all of the people who are closest to you in your life and those who make up your family. Use the resources around you, this could be pens, paint, recycled materials, natural materials, magazines, newspaper – get creative!

Family Tree

We would like you to explore your family's journey over time.

- We would like you to find out who your ancestors were, how they lived and what they did. Researching and talking about your family history can be really exciting and interesting! You can present your family tree however you wish, but some examples are given below.

Different kinds of family

We would like you to research a family.

- In today's world, there are so many different types of family. We would like you to research and find out all about one that is different from your own. Some examples may include: a royal family, an animal family, a word family or a famous family.

Family around the world

We would like you to think about where in the world your family live.

- Communication with family across the world has never been easier because of technology! We would like you to mark on a world map where your family live and make contact with them in some way. This could be through sending a text, email, letter, phone call or video chat. We are sure that they will be thrilled to hear from you in some way!

Do not forget to upload your work to Seesaw or email pictures to your class teacher as we love seeing all of your fabulous work! 😊
